BRIEF HISTORY

Seton Hall University was founded in 1865 by Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, the first bishop of Newark, who named it after his aunt, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, a pioneer in Catholic education and the first American-born saint. The University is the largest and oldest diocesan university in the United States.

Nestled on 58 acres in the suburban village of South Orange, New Jersey, Seton Hall's campus is home to eight schools and colleges: the College of Arts and Sciences, the W. Paul Stillman School of Business, the College of Education and Human Services, the College of Nursing, the John C. Whitehead School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, the School of Graduate Medical Education, and University College. Seton Hall's School of Law is located in Newark.

From its original enrollment of a handful of students, Seton Hall grew rapidly. During its first 12 years, the College had enrolled over 500 freshmen from 17 states and six foreign countries. Seton Hall has always reflected the growing ethnic scope of its students and the increasing diversity of the Church and society it has served. In the 19th century, in spite of setbacks, major fires, lean times and the Civil War years, the College continued to expand. By 1937, Seton Hall established a University College. This marked the first matriculation of women at Seton Hall. The University became fully coeducational in 1968.

The years after the Second World War witnessed unprecedented growth for Seton Hall as it responded to the needs of thousands of veterans seeking higher education. The College was organized into a university in 1950, comprising the College of Arts and Sciences and the schools of Business, Nursing and Education. The School of Law opened its doors in 1951.

The next two decades saw the construction and modernization of a large number of facilities and the construction of the library, science building, residence halls and the University Center. Many new programs and majors were inaugurated, as were important social outreach efforts. New ties were established with the private and industrial sectors, and a growing partnership developed with federal and state governments in creating programs for the economically and educationally disadvantaged.

The 1970s and 1980s continued to be a time of growth and renewal. New business and nursing classroom buildings and an art center were opened. In 1984 the Immaculate Conception Seminary returned to Seton Hall, its original home until 1926, when it moved to Darlington. With construction of four new residence halls between 1986-1988, and the purchase of an off-campus apartment building in 1990, Seton Hall now provides living space for approximately 2,100 students.

The physical development of the campus continued in the 1990's. In 1994, construction was completed on the $20 million, four-story Walsh Library. This facility provides first-class study and research resources to undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and scholars from around the world.

The opening, in September 1997, of Kozlowski Hall, Seton Hall's newest academic center, was a clear example of the University's commitment to technology and the expanding role of information technology in higher education. All classrooms in the building are wired to accommodate notebook computers, and many of the lecture halls are equipped with distance-learning technology.

The 1956 centenary history of Seton Hall concluded with these words: "Seton Hall University's great boast and claim to fame is not predicated on expansion, buildings or even curriculum. It lies rather in the hearts and minds of a dedicated and devoted faculty." Seton Hall's history has been one primarily of people: students and faculty living and working together in a community of learning, a community rooted in a Catholic tradition that is a home for the mind, the heart and the spirit.

² Note: "Retention After 1 Yr" is the number of students still enrolled from their entering fall semester to the next fall semester. For example, in Fall 1992, 985 freshmen entered and in Fall 1993, 837 of those students were still enrolled. This yielded a retention rate of 85.0%.

³ Note: "Retention After 2 Yrs" is the number of students still enrolled from their entering fall semester to two fall semesters later. For example, in Fall 1992, 985 freshmen entered and in Fall 1994, 708 of those students were still enrolled. This yielded a retention rate of 71.9%.

⁴ Note: "Retention After 3 Yrs" is the number of students still enrolled from their entering fall semester to three fall semesters later. For example, in Fall 1992, 985 freshmen entered and in Fall 1995, 663 of those students were still enrolled. This yielded a retention rate of 67.3%.
